* Minimum Qualifications for the Registered Financial Consultant (RFC) Designation

The Registered Financial Consultant (RFC) designation is the professional credential for persons in the field of financial planning. The designation is awarded by the International Association of Registered Financial Consultants (IARFC) to those financial advisors who can meet the high standards of education, experience and integrity. The RFC requires the following prerequisites: (1) meet an educational curriculum that covers six topics, (2) pass the RFC exam, (3) have attained a professional designation or earned a bachelors or graduate degree in financial planning with emphasis on subjects relating to economics, accounting, business, statistics, finance and similar studies, (4) have four years of experience, (5) a sound record of business integrity with no suspension or revocation of any professional licenses, (6) devote a minimum of 40 hours per year to continuing professional education in the field of personal finance and professional practice management.

Minimum Qualifications for the Chartered Life Underwriter (CLU) Designation

The CLU is a professional designation for individuals who wish to specialize in life insurance and estate planning. Individuals must complete five core courses and three elective courses, and successfully pass all eight two-hour, 100-question examinations in order to receive the designation.

DISCIPLINARY INFORMATION

Messrs. F. Dean Barber, M. Shane Barber, Sheerin, Godke and Miller and Ms. Baker have no material legal or disciplinary events requiring disclosure.

OTHER BUSINESS ACTIVITIES

The associated persons in this supplement all hold an insurance license to sell limited insurance products. It is anticipated that a small portion, less than (10%) of their time, will be spent providing these insurance products. They may receive compensation from selling insurance products and therefore receive economic benefit for this activity. This activity may create a conflict of interest with clients. However, since this activity represents less than 10% of their time and income, it is presumed not to be substantial.

Mr. Dean Barber indirectly owns BFG Tax Service, LLC. When investment management, plan implementation, financial planning services or tax planning are offered, there is a potential conflict of interest since there is an incentive for the party offering investment management and financial planning services to recommend the services for which associated persons of our firm may receive compensation through Barber Tax Service, LLC. However, investment management/financial planning clients are under no obligation to act upon any of our recommendations or to utilize the services of the tax planning division.

Mr. Dean Barber is the host of the Wealth Management Radio Show. The radio show is designed to educate radio listeners on financial matter. The show airs in approximately 15 markets. Mr. Barber is compensated for hosting the radio show and may also receive inquiries about Barber Financial Group services as a result of the radio show. Mr. Barber spends approximately eight hours a week on the radio show.

Mr. Barber is also the co-author of “Retire A Winner” that focuses on how to live the life style and leave a legacy you want. Fees may be received from the sale of this published book. Clients of BFG are welcome, but are never obligated to purchase any product or publication that may be available.

ADDITIONAL COMPENSATION

Barber Financial Group shares net profits with the investment adviser representatives if the representatives meet personal goals. The additional compensation is reviewed and paid quarterly.
